City Attorney Baker presented the contract for the purchase of the fire engine from the Knox Automobile Company, and this was carefully considered by the Board.

Harry L. Edwards, representing the Civic Club, stated that at a recent meeting of the club a protest had been made as to the purchase of this engine, and that a resolution had been passed by the Civic Club requesting the Board to delay action until after the election for the water bonds. The action of the Civic Club was discussed by the Board of Trustees, and Mayor Bancroft stated that it was the wish of the Trustees to work and co-operate with the Civic Club, in so far as is possible, on all matters tending to the improvement of the city, yet on account of the fact that it would take at least 120 working days before the engine could be delivered, and that a new election for Trustees would be held in the spring, and it being the desire of the present Board to close this matter during its tenure of office, and from the further fact that at this time there is considerable agitation to annex the city to Los Angeles, and if such annexation was had it was believed by good attorneys that Los Angeles could and would appropriate to her own use and benefit all unused bond issues that have been made, and if this was the case if no provision had been made for the purchase of the engine for which bonds have been voted they would accrue to the benefit of Los Angeles, and Tropic would lose thereby. Under these circumstances, it was believed by the Trustees that the best interests of the city would be served by proceeding with the contract.

A VERY PLEASANT TIME

TROPICO THURSDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

Mrs. John A. Logan, assisted by Mrs. Hal H. Davenport, Mrs. E. V. Bacon, Mrs. J. W. Ashton and Mrs. Charles P. Finley, entertained the Tropic Thursday Afternoon Club at the home of Mrs. Logan Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Charles A. Barker, club president, and Mrs. Frank Peters each gave reports of reciprocity day observed by the Sawtelle club.

Mrs. Hal Davenport, vice president, who attended the Compton club's reciprocity day as a delegate from the Tropic club, also gave an interesting report of her visit to Compton club.

The members of the Tropic club attended the meeting of Thursday with their arms laden with packages of fruit, clothing and various articles, which were placed in the den of Mrs. Logan's home and soon found ready and willing customers. The proceeds derived from the sale of these donations is added to the philanthropic fund of the club.

Mrs. John G. Francis of Los Angeles gave a lengthy talk on the Juvenile Hall at Los Angeles.

Miss Emma Pulliam rendered a vocal solo, Mrs. Dora Gibson accompanied. Miss Pulliam very graciously responded to an encore.

Los Angeles wants to annex Tropic, but the citizens of that town cannot see it in that light. They are talking of having a municipal water plant of their own.—Redondo Reflex.

G. U. H. S. NOTES.

The Los Angeles State Normal sent a basketball team to Glendale last Wednesday for a practice game. The Normal team were all large; most of them were larger than any on the Glendale team.

The game started, and it looked as if Glendale was going to have an easy time of it, but the stars on the college team soon hit their stride and at the end of the half the score was 15 to 6 in favor of Normal. The final score was 25 to 19.

The line-up was as follows:
Glendale.....Normal.
Simons.....F.....Gans
Snively.....F.....McClure
Bidwell.....C.....Record
Farner.....G.....Easton
Livingston.....G.....Pine
Gilmore.....G.....Pine

The team will go to the State Normal School next Wednesday to try and recover their scalps. The coach, Mr. Ferguson, will give the team a severe course in training from now on, as the time for the opening of the league season is but three weeks off. The first league game is with Alhambra at Glendale. Mr. Ferguson wishes to let the public know through the papers that the games this year will be worth seeing, and that the team needs all the support that it can get, so make it a point to get up to see some of them.

The custom was started last year in the Student Body to give one play a year to raise the necessary expenses for athletics. A lady was obtained to direct the play, Mrs. Corey E. Hicks, who will be the directress for the play that will be put on this year.

The play that was given last year was "Midsummer Night's Dream," a Shakespearean drama, but the one to be introduced next is "Brewster's Millions." Unusual pains will be taken in this, as the expenses necessary to keep the various teams are somewhat larger than heretofore.

The annual fall business meeting of the Alumni Association of the Glendale Union High School will be held in the High School Auditorium Friday evening, Nov. 14, 1913, at 7:30 p. m. All members are invited to be present.

PEOPLE'S ORCHESTRA CONCERT.

Lovers of the western music who attended the People's Concert last Sunday at the Auditorium Theatre received a very great treat, as there were four Indian selections on the program. The Indian Suite by Hans S. Linne, a local composer, was given its first public performance. The Suite is written in four parts. The pictures are well drawn and mark the writer as a composer of talent and musical perception.

"The Race Mother," written by Sharlot M. Hall and set to music by Charles Farwell Edson, who read the poem while the orchestra accompanied him, was so heartily applauded that it was necessary to repeat it. The other two selections having themes from the Indian life were Habanera and the Dagger Dance from "Natomia," by Victor Herbert. The other numbers on the program were the "Prometheus Overture," by Beethoven, and "Jubel Overture," by Weber.

The People's Chorus will be heard with the orchestra again next Sunday. They will sing the Barcarolle from "Tales of Hoffman," by Offenbach, and "Holy," from Verdi's Requiem Mass. "From My Youth" Suite by Mortimer Wilson which delighted the patrons of the concerts last season will also form a part of the program. Piano selections are always great favorites, and the Concerto in D Minor by Rubenstein, which is to be played by Mr. Vernon Spencer, with orchestral accompaniment, will alone insure a well-filled house.

A WANDERING TROPICAN WRITES.

On April 18 of this blessed year 1913 wife and I left genial Southern California for some months in Oregon and Washington to conduct Bible Institutes and preach the gospel of peace among the poor. For three months, missing only three nights, we held two services a day, then found ourselves at North Yakima, Wash., with the affliction of a carbuncle on the back of my neck.

We expect to reach Southern California in a few weeks and again enjoy both the climate and the good people of Tropic.

We have seen the immense fruit crop of Washington peaches slaughtered by commission merchants and producers left as the orange growers were before they reached the present protective organization. It seems very difficult to bring the peach growers into complete harmony among themselves, so as to secure for themselves their own. We have visited some great lumber regions and beheld the saws eat through wood as Judge Burch would eat through a delicious Coos Bay apple. Man, with his lever moving saws at his pleasure, producing lengths and sizes to suit. Other men handling immense logs as a boy would a baseball bat, now pulling a lever and throwing the log on a carriage, now turning the log over like a mere stick, next running it up to a 50-foot band saw that cut its way through the log as a woman would with a knife through a square of butter.

Man brings into subjection so many mighty things that it is a joy to look on. The resources of Oregon and Washington are so vast, so great, that if both were walked in from the rest of the world the people would go on and enjoy all that should be enjoyed by any people.

"The rains are here, and even these bring many blessings, and the people work as usual. Very little snow comes about the holidays."

AN INTERESTING EVENING

Do you know how and when the old ballads were written? Uot many of us do, so the Parent-Teachers' Association of Tropic have secured Helen Beatrice Cooper to give a program on "The American Ballad, Past and Present," at the Glendale Union High school this Friday evening, November 14, at 8 o'clock.

Miss Cooper has devoted much time and research in preparing this program and with each ballad will give a little historical sketch telling its story.

These are the songs that never grow old and are loved by all. Helen Beatrice Cooper needs no introduction to a Tropic audience and the Parent-Teacher Association feel very much gratified in securing this young artist for this interesting program and promises a pleasant evening to those attending.

Mrs. Helen De Gaston will be the accompanist. Mrs. De Gaston has studied in Chicago many years and is a pianist of ability.

The plant of the Antelope Valley Ledger-Gazette of Lancaster was destroyed last week by fire.

ADDING MANY NEW BOOKS

To the Tropic Public Library For Use of Booklovers

The following new books have just been received at the library: "Memoirs of a Sportsman," by Turgeneff.

"Sally," "Mrs. Tubbs" and "A Little Maid of Concord Town," by Margaret Sidney.

"The White Linen Nurse," by Abbott.

"Two Little Savages," by Seton.

"The Virginian," by Owen Wister.

"Glenarry School Days," by Ralph Connor.

"The Westerners," by Stewart Ed. White.

"The Affairs at the Inn," by Mrs. Wiggins and others.

"A Fair Barbarian," by Frances Hodgson Burnett.

"The Octopus," by Frank Norris.

"The Man Higher Up," by Miller.

"Story of the Files," by Cummins.

The last named volume is very valuable as a reference book, being a complete review of California literature and journalism between the years of 1852 and 1893, containing extracts from their works and portraits and biographical sketches of the writers.

The library is in receipt of the announcement of correspondence courses in agriculture by the State University. These courses have just been arranged for and are twenty-nine in number, covering such subjects as potato culture, bee-keeping, poultry, husbandry, etc. Probably the courses that would be of greatest interest and practical value to people of our own city are the last three:

Course 27—"Home Floriculture." Course 28—"Home Ground Ornamentation." Course 29—"Rural Public Health."

Each course will consist of about fourteen lessons, and no charges will be made for them. Anyone interested in this matter will find the circular at the library giving full information as to enrollment and the dates at which the different courses will be ready.

The library will undoubtedly be able to be of assistance to those desiring to take these courses in the matter of securing the necessary books.

Now that school work is in full swing, it is well to call attention to some of the many books that might be of value to the student.

For study of literature, we have works by the following standard authors: Charlotte Bronte, Robert L. Stevenson, Edgar A. Poe (complete), Goethe (complete translation), Victor Hugo, Sir Walter Scott (complete), Dickens (complete), Shakespeare (complete), Thackeray, Irving, Hawthorne, Bret Harte (complete), and others. For history study: Macaulay's England, Carlyle's French Revolution, Riddell's United States, Motley's Dutch Republic, Emerson's Nineteenth Century, Timayen's History of Greece; Lives of Logan, Blaine, Grant, McKinley and Lincoln; Memoirs of Gen. Miles; "Messages and Papers of the Presidents, from Washington to McKinley." Complete works of Roosevelt, including state papers and messages. Wolfson's Essentials of Ancient History, McGroarty's History of California. Reference books: Chamber's Encyclopedia, New Standard Encyclopedia, English Cyclopaedia, five volumes of Spofford's Library of Historic Characters and Famous Events; and many valuable reference books for Bible study, as well as quite a collection of books of a religious and philosophical nature. Some of the miscellaneous books of special interest are John Muir's Boyhood and Youth and Mountains of California, Booker Washington's "Up From Slavery," Helen Keller's Story of Her Life, Martin's "Friendly Stars," and Edward's Panama.

All assistance possible will be gladly rendered in finding material wanted.

When we subtract what we know from what we think we know, the residue is very large.

Mr. Charles Wells and Mr. Charles Carroll of the Kalem in Glendale have purchased an automobile of the Studebaker type, and they are now in the process of stripping it down. They intend to enter their racer in the next Santa Monica road race. The engine in the machine is an exceptionally good one, and those who have ridden with "Chuck" Wells know what an expert driver he is, so they will probably show some speed.

WILL TROPICO DO LIKEWISE?

Burbank has made a long step forward in municipal affairs in taking over their water system. Here is what the Review says:

Yes, Burbank has heretofore, like all other towns, been somewhat short of water. And it is quite likely we would have remained short, and much of the land within the present city limits unimproved and homeless for some years to come, if certain progressive citizens, including our present Board of City Trustees, had not wisely decided to inaugurate a municipal water system for Burbank. The Review at all times advocated this procedure, as for the best interests of Burbank, and the people ratified the proposition by voting the necessary bond issue. By that action a Greater Burbank was made possible and the future will show this prediction fully verified. The trustees have proceeded with great care and thorough investigation in the matter of securing the municipal water plant and they have been singularly successful. Investigation by anyone will show that they have secured for the city of Burbank one of the best water systems to be found in any suburban town in the country. They have builded well for the future by obtaining what good judges say is the best, which in the end is the cheapest.

A summary statement of receipts from all the national forests for the fiscal year, July 1, 1912, to June 30th, 1913, has been issued by the National Forest Service, and shows that the total receipts from the National Forests amount to $2,391,920.85. Of this amount Arizona and New Mexico get $45,534.04, which goes to the credit of the school funds of these two states. California receives $298,166.21.

William Tatum and family, who have been residents on W. Cypress avenue for some time, have moved to Sangus, where they will take up ranching on the Wm. Hough ranch. Mr. Tatum recently sold his express team and business to Sam Rich.

Up to the fourth inning it was dog eat dog, till B. Daniels nosed in on Bidwell's hit, scoring the first run of the game. Lankershim evened it up in the sixth, but the local boys were not to be denied and B. Daniels again crossed the plate for a tally. They took one apiece in the seventh and Lankershim scored again in the ninth, making the score 3 and 3. From then on till the twelfth frame both teams played baseball such as one reads about but seldom sees. The batters went out in one-two-three order and both pitchers were working hard and fast and heady as big leaguers.

The strain was near to the snapping point for players and spectators alike when along came Charlie Daniels with the game in his hand to take or leave. With three men on bases he struck at two, let three go by and then as the next one Rider rolled up the groove came at him he met it full and square for a clean home run, sending an avalanche of Tropic Gray across the plate ahead of him amid a riot of applause from the fans, the tooting of auto horns

CASABA GROWERS

Made A Game Fight But Fail To Hold Their Own With The Tropic Greys Seeking Delayed Vengeance

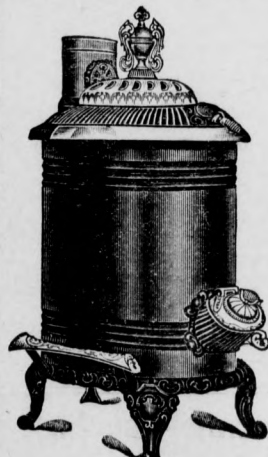

Last Sunday's game at Lankershim between Tropic and the Casaba City's nine was far and away the best game of the season in the San Fernando Valley League, and resulted in victory for Tropic after twelve of the fastest and hardest fought innings played this season.

Tropic went up there to wipe out the two previous defeats by Lankershim and the latter were just as determined to make it three straight. It was the old story of an irresistible force meeting an immovable body—with variations. The variations were supplied by Charlie Daniels, and here is how it happened:

Up to the fourth inning it was dog eat dog, till B. Daniels nosed in on Bidwell's hit, scoring the first run of the game. Lankershim evened it up in the sixth, but the local boys were not to be denied and B. Daniels again crossed the plate for a tally. Factional and sectional fights are splendid for holding back a town or community. If you want your neighborhood to be on the bum fight everything regardless of merits.

The Water Commission of Los Angeles has announced that those desiring connection with the water system in new territory must pay for such connection at the rate of 40 cents a front foot. Another argument for Tropico to annex to Los Angeles.

THAT MAN, Green, of the Inglewood News, is a live wire, and he evidently must have a live town to work in. The News is full of not only good reading matter, but chock full of good big ads. The last "stunt" of Brother Green is to pull off a "red paper," in which he has much to say about Inglewood and the advantages offered by that burg.

THERE IS a deep growl that is ever growing more insistent against the service the Pacific Electric is giving Tropico. A wise management would heed this growl before it burst into active opposition. The Pacific Electric is a big concern, and a strong corporation, but it's poor business policy for any corporation, in this day and age to flagrantly antagonize the public, and it would seem that good business judgment would dictate a better service.

THERE IS a steady and insistent demand throughout the country that some system be devised by which real estate be transferred without the delay and expense now entailed. Especially is this true of California. During the session of the last legislature an effort was made to pass the bill establishing the Torrens Land Law, but it was killed by those interested in the present mode of transferring property. The abstract companies, and the title guarantee companies, of course, are opposed to anything that will lessen their receipts, and their receipts are augmented by the present cumbersome system.

One of the arguments of the annexationists is that if Tropico should annex to Los Angeles it would have the benefit of the outfall sewer. They forget that this sewer is now running to its full capacity. Even Edendale, which has been within the city limits for a number of years, is without sewer connection. Upon investigation practically all of the arguments of the annexationists will be found based upon unreliable information and erroneous conclusions.

ONE of the supposed advantages which Tropico will receive by being annexed to Los Angeles, according to the arguments of the annexationists, is better police protection. It is difficult to see how Tropico could have better police protection than it now has, or why it should need better, but be that as it may, see what the East Hollywood Enquirer has to say about this, and East Hollywood has been a part of Los Angeles for several years. The Enquirer says: "Among other things to which East Hollywood is entitled, and has not yet received since annexation to Los Angeles, is police protection. Acts of vandalism are committed by local, and perhaps imported hoodlums, with more frequency than is necessary or desirable." Don't seem as though East Hollywood got police protection.

And the pity is that any one starting such deplorable conditions does not suffer alone, but causes all the community to suffer with him.

A man does not live to himself alone. And this is vitally true to a business man in a small community. If the community prospers he should prosper. If the community goes down, he goes down with it. It is therefore important that each should do his share to make the town and community prosperous, even to personal sacrifice at times when it may become necessary.

DON'T LET PREJUDICE SWAY YOU.

THE most important thing before Tropico at this time is the proper solution of the water question. While there are practically as many opinions as to how to solve this question as there are individuals in the city, yet it is sincerely hoped that each and every individual at the election next week will look at the matter from a patriotic standpoint, and vote the way he honestly believes will be to the best interests of the city.

Frankly, I am in favor of municipal ownership, even if we have to pay an extra price to obtain it. I believe that under the circumstances, and this belief is based upon four months of investigation of the subject, that a mistake will be made if the bonds are defeated. I do not know Mr. Brand, the owner of the Tropico Water Company, and knowingly never saw him in my life. I have no interest in him whatever, but I have an interest in Tropico, and I want to do whatever I can to promote its welfare.

It may be true, and no doubt is, that the present plant cost Mr. Brand about one-half he is asking for it, but that is not the way to look at the point in issue:

The only thing which should be considered is, is it to the best interest of Tropico to purchase the plant at the price asked? I believe it is, and I base this belief upon the following reasoning: Even those most adverse to purchasing the water plant only claim that the price is $10,000 in excess of what it should be, and they do not know whether or not it can ever be obtained for less than the price now asked, but just think may be it can at some future date.

If the people of Tropico had to tax themselves for the purpose of purchasing this plant, and bringing the system up to an efficient state, there might be cause for hesitation, but based upon the present receipts of the company, and the present expense, the money that the citizens of Tropico are today paying to the water company will not only pay the interest on the bonds; pay the principle as it matures; pay all the expenses of running the plant, and leave each year a surplus for improvements, betterments, or reduction of rates or taxes. If this be so, and every man who has investigated the proposition unqualifiedly makes the statement that it is, why would it not be a good idea to purchase the plant.

If the receipts will pay running expenses, and pay for the plant, and then leave a surplus, by all that's holy, is it not the part of wisdom to acquire it?

It is easy to understand why Mr. Brand desires to sell. Each year it is becoming more difficult for private corporations to manage public utilities to the satisfaction of the public. Then Mr. Brand, from all accounts, has reached a condition in life and age where it is natural that he should desire to concentrate his investments in securities that require less attention to details.

The charge that the present Board of Trustees are incompetent to handle the proposition, and are not worthy of trust, to my way of looking at it, is purile and childish. I believe that the Board, as a whole and as individuals, are as honest as any Board in any town, and I make this assertion after carefully watching and scrutinizing every act of the Board for the past nine months. It is true they have done some things that I think they should not have done, and have left undone some things that I think they should have done, but this is a matter of opinion on my part, just as it is a matter of opinion on your part as to their incompetency and untrustworthiness. But suppose they are incompetent. There only remains a few months until the next city election, and if they are incompetent, let us put in a Board that is competent. But do not let us cut off our nose to spite our face. Neither let us act like children. Let us consider this matter from a practical, sensible standpoint, and put aside our petty animosities and prejudices, and cast our vote for that which we believe honestly will best tend to promote the future welfare and prosperity of Tropico.

Mattison B. Jones and W. E. Evans are considering the erection of a two-story brick and apartment building at the corner of Brand Boulevard and Second. The building is to 50x100, with cement floors, pressed brick facing and plate glass windows.

The first Sunday in December is set aside, by law, as the day upon which all lodges of Elks hold services in memory of their departed brothers. This service is known as the "Lodge of Sorrow." The time and place of service will be announced later, and all brothers are requested to attend.

Mrs. Geo. B. Stevens, assisted by Miss Crouther, has opened a private kindergarten school at her home, 332 N. Louise street. Mrs. Stevens has a beautiful home, with spacious grounds and lawns, which make an ideal place for little ones. Children will be carried to and from the school by auto.

Commencing Tuesday morning, an additional carrier was put on by the Postoffice Department in the Tropico territory and mail will be delivered in the Angelus Tract and on that portion of Dunbarton and Oak Drive which was not heretofore been served. Postmaster Davis and Assistant Postmistress Miss Meyers are doing everything they can to give the people of Tropico a prompt and efficient service.

The G. A. R. Hall is resplendent with a new coat of paint, administered by the deft hands of Tropico's good old soldiers, and to show that an entirely friendly feeling exists between them and the confederates they chose gray for the color.

JOLLY UNCLE JOSH

Great Generosity Toward a Newly Wedded Niece

A REAL LIVE TROPICO ROMANCE

Business Men Are Leading Characters

NO TERROR TO OLD BACHELORS NOW

Find an Uncle Josh and Wade In

"Miss Summers—Polly—I—I—er— dare I"— But the speaker took a header over bashfulness, only to hear a sweet—

"Yes, Charley."

"Can I aspire to—er—that is—"

Again a lapse into silence, followed by an encouraging—

"Yes, Charley."

"Oh, if I might only hope to—er—to—"

Another failure of language. It was seemingly a hopeless case, and might have been, only for a demure—

"Charley, I have said 'yes' twice, and if you mean it, I mean it, too, and—"

And to this day that young man will insist that he popped the question.

All this happened after "down east," and it wasn't long before there was a wedding. Not much longer before there came a letter from Polly's Uncle Josh, out here in Tropico, who wrote effusively of his delight at her exhibition of what he called "grit," and he proposed that if the young people would locate at Tropico he would start them up in life, as a wedding gift. Of course, they accepted, and were soon bidding their friends adieu.

The first of this week a travel-stained party arrived in Tropico. Our friend, Uncle Josh, was in charge, and he led the party straightway to a hotel. "The Hotel Tropico," said he, "is a typical European hotel of the best class. I have known Mr. J. F. Proctor, the proprietor, for years, and he is mine host after mine own heart, endowed with that delightful intuition that makes a guest feel at home, contented and in mighty good luck. I have engaged rooms here until your own house is in readiness."

"Oh, goodness knows; there's lots to buy," remarked Polly. "Then suppose we buy 'lots' first," quoth Charley, without turning a hair. Uncle Josh saw the point and started for McAdams Bros.' real estate office, remarking on the way: "I can always depend on them for bargains in real estate, as they never hold out false lights to induce people to buy. What they tell you about property may be set down as solid facts. They control a large list of desirable residences as well as ranch properties, and their judgment on the 'good things' is par excellence."

The party was not long in making a dicker for a nice house in Tropico and a ranch, which Charley considered a splendid investment. "By the way," exclaimed Uncle Josh, with a paternal air, "the next thing to look for is the lumber for those improvements which are absolutely necessary. Come with me, and I'll introduce you to the Tropico-Glendale Lumber Company, who are the principal dealers in that line here, and they have a well equipped planing mill in connection. They carry the most complete line of building material in the county—everything from the sills for the foundation to the shingles for the roof, including doors and windows, mouldings, etc. It is pleasant to deal with the Tropico-Glendale Lumber Company, for their greatest aim is to give satisfaction to every customer. In a few minutes Uncle Josh had made all arrangements for the building material."

"A pretty good start," said the old man, "and now we'll go to O. P. Martin's big hardware and stove store." Here Polly's housewifely instincts had full play in marvels of kitchen apparatus. "There is not an establishment in the country that carries a more comprehensive stock of household furnishings," remarked Uncle Josh. "Every possible piece of kitchen furniture from a tin dipper to a cooking range is here, in all styles and variety." If Polly fails to accomplish wonders in the culinary art, it will not be for want of superior cooking utensils, for she purchased a Peninsular range with all equipments needed in a well regulated kitchen, besides a Perfection oil stove and the paints and oils for their new home. All of which Uncle Josh paid for with delight.

While Uncle Josh was pondering where to go next, Polly suddenly asked: "Uncle, where can I find the leading millinery establishment?" "Just a few doors further on to Park and Brand streets," replied Uncle Josh, "and we will visit Dutton & Dutton, who, by the way, have on hand one of the completest stocks of millinery to be found in the city. You can get what you want there, the latest styles and lowest prices being their motto. Years of experience guarantees that when you have purchased of them you have the thing according to fashion and a satisfaction that your work has been done by a competent artist." In a few hours there never was a happier girl than Polly, for her winter had was a perfect dream of loveliness.

"I would like to make you acquainted with Dr. P. O. Lucas, my dentist friend, too," said the old man. "His office is right upstairs, and if you ever have to supplement your natural teeth—" "Ugh! Don't you mention floss to me!" cried Polly. "I'll never carry 'pearly lies' in my mouth if I go toothless." "Oh, as for that," laughed Uncle Josh, "if you'll only consult a good dentist in time, you can save the catastrophe. Dr. Lucas, for instance, is wonderfully expert in saving natural teeth, and he has the skill and every mechanical appliance necessary to do his work with the least discomfort to his patrons. His anaesthetic for painless extraction is a wonder, and works like a charm."

After this visit Uncle Josh suggested a resort to some place of refreshment. At the table the old man waxed philosophical. "Never neglect your larder," said he. "That important adjunct to housekeeping controls masculine temper. To that end you must patronize a grocer on whom you can depend for honest goods. In every transaction I have found Davis perfectly reliable. You will find him a careful dealer, always fully stocked with every possible thing in the line of staple and fancy groceries, fresh and first-class, no shelf-worn goods there, while the prices are down to brass tacks. To keep peace in this family, get all your groceries of Davis."

"And in the matter of insurance," continued Uncle Josh, "that is of importance. You want a 'Polly' on new new house of course, and my old friend, W. G. Black, not only has lines of the solidest and best companies, but he is an expert and trustworthy underwriter, he has a large number of companies, all of which belong to the old reliable category, being well known for their prompt and satisfactory adjustment of losses. If you need a loan you better see Black, for he makes a specialty along this line at lowest rates. It's better to be safe than sorry, and you'll surely be safe in the Black agency."

"Now," cried the old gentleman, "now for a picture of this crowd, in good old country fashion; we'll go to the photograph gallery; my friend, E. P. Tresslar, has a good one, at 607 North Brand street. His pictures are wonderful in fidelity and finish. I want one full-size photo for my study, and some small ones for my friends. Tresslar has the soul of a true artist; all his work is a labor of love, in which he will not fall short of perfection, and as is famous for successful enlarging. I want to give you a life size representation of 'yours truly.'" (Uncle Josh's picture may be seen at Tresslar's studio any time the reader desires to call.)

"Holy smoke, Charley, where in the name of creation did you ever get that snipe? That's about the worst weed that ever came in contact with my olfactory nerves," laughingly remarked Uncle Josh. "Step in here at J. Moniot's billiard room and get a 'St. Elmo,' then you'll have a gentleman's smoke. The 'St. Elmo' is a cracker-jack; contains all the qualities of a delicious puff. Mr. Moniot takes great pride to keep that cigar up to the highest standard, and consequently it grows more popular every day." Charley was so well pleased with the St. Elmo Uncle Josh handed him that he bought a whole box and advised his friends to do the same, not forgetting to also make a note of the many other fine brands.

"How about the plumber, Uncle?" inquired Polly. "You remember you said you would see somebody for that." "Jes' so, jes' so; and we shan't have any bother do the work, either. I'll go look for R. S. Robinson. We've got to have gas and water pipes put in, a hot water heater and porcelain bath tub, besides some sanitary fixin's, and this is the very firm to do the work. They observe closely all the hygienic laws guarding against dangers from sewer gases. You can always feel safe about the house when practical men, as I know Mr. Robinson to be, have done the work." The aforesaid plumber got the contract, did just what Uncle Josh said he would do, and won Polly's praise for his excellent workmanship.

"Law sakes!" suddenly exclaimed Uncle Josh, "all this trading and shopping round town has caused me to forget one of the greatest essentials to future existence. I have heard it said that newly married folks could live on love and scenery, but an old man of experience knows better—your table would look slim without bread; it's the 'stuff of life,' you know. Polly, you must meet C. E. Baer. His bread, pies and cakes and nick-nacks are conceded by all to be the finest on earth. Remember, Charley, there is no use of your 'ootsy tootsy' bothering herself much about baking, so long as there is a good baker in town like Mr. Baer. When you give your reception, call on him for the fancy cakes and other good things."

"Yes, and while we are on this important topic of gastronomy, we must not forget meat. It goes hand in hand with bread. Now to locate a meat market where you can get fresh, wholesome meats at all times. Robert Danner is the man to supply you. This is the boss meat market in the city, and is popular with everybody who is particular to have the best. The person for this is all because he is very careful in the selection of stock, and gets the freshest of everything, and keeps nothing but the very best. To keep your 'hubbly' in good humor, Polly, trade at the O. K. market every time."

A BRILLIANT AFFAIR

The K. of P. hall was transformed into a bower of loveliness on Saturday evening, November 8th, when Mr. and Mrs. John H. Seaman of Central avenue entertained with a cotillion for their daughter Eloise. Dwight Stephenson and the young hostess led the grand march and as the young people assembled they made a most pleasing and not soon to be forgotten picture. The favors, which were particularly attractive, added greatly to the already charming gowns of the young girls and lent a touch of color to the dark suits of the young men. Palms and chrysanthemums were in evidence everywhere and the dining room, where pink prevailed, was a step into fairyland. Refreshments were served at 11 o'clock from a large round table glittering with crystal and silver. Among the many guests were: Misses Marjorie Imbe, Katherine Phillips, Daphne Barlingham, Katherine and Dorothy Hobbs, Ruth Hyslop, Blanche and Lila Shea, Lila Webster, Helen Pape, Eleanor Collins, Carrie Stone, Moury Evans-Hough, Louise Storer, Alice and Rebecca Carpenter, Lynn McNutt and Masters Hal and Madison McNutt, Richard Burke, Eugene Imler, Dwight Stephenson, Noble Ripley, Seymour Smith, Merrill Burke, Joseph Wilson, Wayne Frank, Thomas Phillips and James Shea.

Mrs. Arthur W. Payne of South Central avenue entertained with a most delightful luncheon on Wednesday, November 5th. Covers were laid for Mesdames Leigh Bancroft, Oliver J. Merrill, B. W. Richardson and William Harvey, Jr.

Mrs. E. B. Barney of Los Angeles spent last week with Mrs. J. W. Tappin of San Fernando road.

Mrs. Charles Finley and the helms to the house of Finley came up last week from the beach to see how Charley was getting along playing "grass widower." Charley says that, while being a grass widower has its advantages, yet when he comes to sum everything up it's a whole lot nicer to be a "family man."

GEE, BUT IT WAS AGAME

It was Daniels' day all right, but the boys of both teams deserve individual praise for their excellent work. Gabaigh robbed Lankershim in the seventh, when he made a spectacular one-handed running catch that brought the fans to their feet. Charlie Daniels, too, pulled one from the ground as he fell, but was in time to complete a double play to second. Bradford was forced out of the catcher's box in the eighth on account of a badly bruised leg from being hit while at bat by a pitched ball, and was replaced by Laird, who finished the game in excellent style. Markwith staged his foul-grabbing act again, making a long run off third to nail his chicken.

The familiar sight of Sisney on first after his layoff was a welcome one to the fans.

Bidwell's pitching was unusually good, and that his equal is not to be found in the Valley League is the opinion of many.

No matter how Tropico comes out in the race for the pennant, last Sunday's game will go down in the records as a classic.

Next Sunday the local boys will journey to San Fernando for their last game on foreign territory.

The score:
Tropico . . . 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12
Lankershim . . . 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 4-7

The St. Margaret's Guild of the Episcopal Church in Glendale gives a dance Thursday evening in the Butler Hall. The guild is giving this dance to defray the expenses involved in the putting in of a sidewalk around the church.

Mr. H. F. Kneidler has just arrived from Eldora, Iowa, and is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Ingraham of Brand Boulevard. They have been over two months on the way, coming by automobile.

In a stroll about town we could but notice the beautiful flowers and plants in many windows and gardens, while in others was all sorts of rubbish. Every flower in a house or garden certifies to the refinement of somebody. Every vine climbing and blossoming tells of love and joy. Which have you in your garden, flowers or rubbish?

F. L. Boruff of San Fernando for some time has been exceeding the speed limit while going through Tropico. On the 6th, Marshal Gould arrested him and took him before Recorder Melrose, who, on account of the flagrancy of the violation, assessed a fine of $50 or 30 days in jail. Mr. Boruff stood around for a little while, then, without paying, walked out, jumped in his machine and left. Not hearing from him, Monday morning he was called up by long distance phone and informed if he did not come in and pay the fine a bench warrant would be issued for him. He came down and filed an appeal bond.

CLUB BIRTHDAY, CHARTER DAY.

A special program was given Tuesday afternoon in Butler Hall by Julius Krenz, a local violinist of considerable reputation. A reception to the charter members followed the program, and refreshments were served.

The Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale held a special meeting last Saturday, and a unanimous vote was taken to purchase the corner lot at Fifth and Kenwood for a future club site.

Mrs. Cointe of 115 East Park avenue, was pleasantly surprised when her brother, Mr. Henry Vierte and his two sons, Harris and Gussie, of Globe, Washington, visited her last week. She had not seen him in fifteen years. Mr. Vierte is largely interested in saw mills in Washington. He intends to remain in Southern California for one month visiting Mrs. Cointe and Mrs. Asimonte of Santa Monica.

The wise woman never lets her husband know that she has had the last word.

Tropico Pennants

Boost for Tropico by waving your Tropico Pennant

The Booster Editor of The Tropico Sentinel has made arrangements with a leading pennant company for an unlimited number of Tropico pennants, and he is going to distribute them to the readers of this paper at a nominal cost. This is a one-piece plain name felt pennant with sewed felt letters, and measures 12x30 inches.

Weiler. From Tennessee he went to Columbia City, Indiana, where a reunion of his old Co. E of the 17th Indiana was held in his honor. Co. E started out in '61 with 176 boys, 33 of whom are still living, but only 8 attended the reunion. The major has improved in health and gained ten pounds in weight.
